intelliVen

Intelligent Strategies. Successful Ventures.

“Our business is changing rapidly and it is critical that my senior management team be able to adapt and lead effectively through this change. IntelliVen helped us identify key areas that warranted a closer look and to choose the initiatives that could have the most long-term impact on our organization.

As a result of the two-day offsite facilitated by IntelliVen, my team was able to organize into strategic focus areas and go back to the office with a game plan ready for delving into the work to be done.”

SCOTT ARPAJIAN
CEO, Softonic

Softonic is a 200-person PE-owned software firm that helps users find the application they want.

“We have grown rapidly and just added two new executives to our C-Team. Yet, we seemed to have alignment and communication challenges.

Using a fast-paced IntelliVen work session, my team was helped to assess how we work together and what we needed to thrive.

We revisited our skills, behaviors, and expectations of each other, and clarified how to better integrate new members.

Our team is refreshed and newly focused for success!”

REID JACKSON
CEO, Compusearch

Compusearch is a 250-person, PE-owned firm that provides enterprise software and services that automate public sector funds flow to increase compliance, productivity, and transparency.

“Our leadership team has worked with IntelliVen to assess performance and growth two years running. Their state-of-the art system gave us great information from multiple angles. Everyone felt good about the process and got a ton out of it.

We used IntelliVen to get the team talking about the right things and to help us decide who to hire to improve our skill mix relative to success norms.

It generated all the value, and for a lot less time and money, that I expected.”

ROMAN IWACHIW
CEO, FI Consulting

FI Consulting is a 60-person firm that helps large banks, government financial agencies, and finance industry regulators assess and manage retail credit models.
